Weatherproof Design

Not only do the interlocking T&G boards offer a solid unit, but they also give excellent protection from the elements. Combined with great roof cover, you needn't worry about your Log Cabin in bad weather and you can use the garden building all year round.

4) Access

Whether you want a windowed or windowless unit, our Log Cabins have been designed with great features that make accessing them just that bit easier.

Double Doors

If you will be using your Log Cabin for entertaining during summer, you may want a unit which is easily accessible. For this reason, all our Log Cabins have double doors in different styles to best suit the purpose of the building.

We have a range of double doors available for our cabins, with long and modern or classic Georgian styles and solid wooden doors which are great for a Log Cabin workshop or storage use.

Windowed or Windowless

For a Log Cabin Summerhouse, you will want a building that lets plenty of natural light into the building, creating a comfortable space to spend time in. Most of our Log Cabins are designed with windows.

However, we do have some builds specifically designed to be windowless or have fewer windows, providing you with a private unit that keeps your items safely out of sight.

5) Floor Options

We offer different floor options for our Log Cabins, from seasonal flooring use to heavy duty usage which is designed for taking the weight of heavier items.

Premium Heavy Duty Floor

For a heavy duty floor which can take the weight of heavy items and withstand constant use, you will want to opt for our 28mm Tongue and Groove floor. This premium option is great for anyone who wants to use their Log Cabin as a workshop.

Standard T&G Floor

Our interlocking tongue and groove boards provide a strong and solid floor for your Log Cabin. Our standard options are 11mm and 19mm. The T&G has a smooth finish and the interlocking nature of this technique denies water entry.

Basic Bearers

if you prefer, you can also opt for no floor and just pressure treated bearers for your Log Cabin. With just bearers, you can create your own bespoke floor for your garden building.

6) Roof Options

We offer a great range of roof options for our Log Cabins, with heavy-duty and standard roof options included.

Roof Material

We supply an 11mm T&G roof as standard with our Log Cabins. This has a smooth finish and looks stylish inside the garden building. We also provide a 19mm tongue and groove roof for a heavy-duty alternative if you prefer. The interlocking nature of the T&G works effectively to keep water out and provide good protection for the roof of the building.

Roof Cover

Log Cabins require roof cover to keep them fully protected from the elements. We offer a choice of roof cover to ensure you have a roof which is well equipped for the worst of the weather.

Mineral felt is an upgraded version of sand felt which we supply as standard roof cover for Log Cabins. Mineral felt provides good protection and tacks are included as standard.

For a premium cover, we recommend shingles as these are made from thicker material than roofing felt and have the appearance of roofing tiles.

We hope this helps!
